MCQST connects diverse research fields and faculties, spanning the full range from fundamental science to technology, materials development, and applications. Please explore our website (<https://www.mcqst.de/research/overview/>) and describe which two research areas (e.g., Quantum Sensing, Quantum Simulation) interest you most, and explain your main reasons for selecting these focuses.

Do you have relevant experience in your preferred research area or in the field of quantum science in general? Please explain—note that prior laboratory experience is not required.

Please list up to three MCQST members (<https://www.mcqst.de/about/members/>) in your preferred research area, in order of preference, whose research you find particularly inspiring. For each, provide their name and explain why.
